Circumnavigation that survives under the name of Skylax of Karyanda is in fact by an unknown author of the 4th century BC. The text of the periplous or circumnavigation that survives under the name of Skylax of Karyanda is in fact by an unknown author of the 4th century BC. It describes the coasts of the Mediterranean and Black Sea naming hundreds of towns with geographical features such as rivers, harbours and mountains but argues Graham Shipley it is not the record of a voyage or a navigational handbook.

At the same time making this obscure text more widely accessible will be a standard reference tool. It brings together an edition of a full commentary and translation in English and includes a fully revised Greek text based on inspection of the original manuscript.
